FAMILY MEDIATION

Our team of very experienced family mediators have been approved by the Ministry of the Attorney General to provide mediation services in your community. They are trained to help you find solutions that are right for your family. Mediators do not replace lawyers. Mediators help you develop a plan that will work for you and your family that you take to your lawyer. This will usually cost less money and the plan is one that everyone can live with. This means less court time and less stress for everyone. Fees for family mediation services are based on a sliding scale.
